Maddy works magic as Bears feel benefit

Darren Maddy underlined his status as the most successful player in Twenty20 history as Warwickshire set the early pace in this year's competition.

The all-rounder, who lifted the trophy twice with Leicestershire, may have moved across the Midlands in the winter, but his liking for the shortest form of the game remains as strong as ever.

He was instrumental in steering the Bears to the top of the Mid/West/Wales Division midway through the group stages, and within sight of a place in the quarter-finals next month.

He hit 24 off just 11 balls in the victory over Somerset, 28 in the three-run win against Glamorgan, and a superb 51 - his 10th Twenty20 half-century - as well as taking two wickets in Tuesday's defeat of Northamptonshire.

The only blemish on Warwickshire's record is a washed out game against Worcestershire, with severe flooding at New Road forcing the county to call the match off as well as rearranging their three remaining home fixtures.

Gloucestershire, like Warwickshire, are still unbeaten. They sit second in the table following victories over Worcestershire and Somerset, who were tipped by many to challenge for honours but have lost their opening four games.

Nottinghamshire have also caught the eye, last year's beaten finalists sitting two points clear at the top of the North Division on the back of a 100 per cent record in their three completed matches.

They are pursued by Lancashire, whose triumph in Wednesday's Roses battle against Yorkshire at Old Trafford leaves them well placed to reach the latter stages.

Reigning champions Leicestershire, whose sole win thus far - over Yorkshire on the opening day of the competition - owed much to Jeremy Snape's hat-trick, should not be discounted.

Their meeting with Lancashire on the final day of group games threatens to be crucial, while we should know more about a congested South Conference after a busy Friday night of action.

Surrey, who slipped to their first defeat in this year's competition at the hands of Essex on Thursday, travel to Hove to face leaders Sussex, while Essex will looking to build on that win when they entertain Kent at Chelmsford.
