

Use of ECB Clubmark Resources and Liability

Gaining ECB Clubmark accreditation demonstrates that you take the management and development of your club seriously. However, it is your responsibility to ensure that you maintain the appropriate standards, that you continually review the running of your club and are vigilant at all times about any circumstances which may affect the safety and security of your club. The award of ECB Clubmark accreditation is an acknowledgement that you have met certain criteria, but it is not a guarantee of the safety and security of the club or its activities, which remain the responsibility of your club at all times.

Except to the extent that such liability may not be excluded by law, the England & Wales Cricket Board (the ECB) and its members, directors, officers, employees, advisors and agents will not be responsible or liable to any party for any direct, indirect or consequential loss, costs or damage of any nature arising out of or in connection with any reliance placed on material in this publication and the associated resources or any other guidelines or policies issued by the ECB, the running of the club's activities and premises or the application, award or use of ECB Clubmark. For the avoidance of doubt, such loss, costs or damage shall include economic loss (including loss of income or profit) arising out of the revocation, suspension, reduction in the scope of, or refusal to renew or extend the use of ECB Clubmark. The ECB and its members, directors, officers, employees, advisors and agents shall have no obligations, duties or liabilities in respect of ECB Clubmark other than those expressly agreed in writing.

The guidance contained in the ECB Clubmark Materials (including without limitation the ECB Clubmark Evidence File and associated resources) and in all other ECB policies, procedures and resources is subject to change from time to time, including variations required to comply with legislative changes or core Clubmark requirements. The ECB reserves the right to amend, supplement and/or discontinue, at its absolute discretion for whatever reason, any or all of the ECB Clubmark Materials.

The ECB reserves all of its rights relating to the ECB Clubmark Materials. Save as reasonably required in connection with ECB Clubmark accreditation, no part of the ECB Clubmark Materials may be reproduced, stored in a retrieval system or transmitted in any form or by any means (electronic, mechanical, photocopying, recording or otherwise) without the prior written consent of the ECB.